1. GENERAL OVERVIEW

Slovak Abilitysport Youth Games are organized by the Slovak Sports Association for the Disabled, which serves as the national representative for sports for people with disabilities in Slovakia, a member of the Slovak Paralympic Committee, and a member of the international sports organizations World Abilitysport, WorldBoccia, IWBF, and World ParaVolley.

The games offer young and rookie athletes a platform for inspiring competition and healthy athletic rivalry. These qualities are crucial to their development, yet opportunities to compete at the international level are hard to come by these days.

In 2022 and 2023, the games were held at the national level. In 2024 and 2025, they were held in an international format, featuring competitions in six sports with more than 200 participants. In addition to national participants, athletes from the Czech Republic, Poland, Hungary, Slovenia, Ukraine, and England also competed. The name of the games—Slovak Abilitysport Youth Games—reflects this international format, referencing the name and ideals of the international organization World Abilitysport. The games are being held in the town of Dolný Kubín, which, in addition to its location in a beautiful natural setting, boasts excellent sports facilities and a strong organizational infrastructure.
